RING TIDIES.

cop

Materials:—Two shades of gray, one ounce of each; two shades of red, one ounce of each; one ounce of black; one half ounce of yellow, and a medium sized crochet hook.

Make a chain of twenty-five stitches with the dark shade of red and join with a double crochet.

First row.—Work a double crochet into every loop.

Second row.—* one double crochet into the space between the first and second stitches, one crochet; repeat from *, working into every space.

Third row.—Join the light shade of red, and work precisely like the second row. This completes one ring. Begin another with twenty-five in the dark shade of gray, but before joining with a double crochet, pass one end through the ring already made, so as to link the two rings together. Make in same way as first ring. Continue in this way with the rings in alternate colors, linking them together until you have twelve rings in length. Then take the yellow worsted, join with a double crochet between two stitches of the first ring, and work * one chain, one double crochet into the next hole of the same ring, and repeat from *. This makes eight double crochets in all on the first ring. Then go on to the succeeding rings, working in the same way eight double crochets on each. This forms a row of yellow on one edge of the rings. Now take the black wool and work the two rows of double crochets in the same way the yellow was worked, which will finish the strip on one side.

Work exactly the same on the other side of the strip, and when four strips are made, join them with yellow wool. Now continue the rings of the outer strips on the top and bottom.

Each corner ring is to be left independent; that is, is not to be joined to the middle of the tidy, but must pass through the other two rings. In joining the chain of the last one, it must be remembered it has to pass through two rings instead of one. For the border begin on the top corner at the right-hand side, working a treble into one of the spaces between two stitches. Then one chain, one treble all round. This is to be in yellow. Then work two rounds in black and one round in yellow, four chain, one double crochet.

Crown Lace.

Make a chain of 9 stitches.

First row—5tr in 5 stitch, 1 ch, 1 tr in 9 stitch.

Second row—4 ch, 6 tr in centre of the 6 tr in the preceding row, 4ch, 1 sc in corner of first row.

Third row—10 s c over the 4 ch, 1 ch, same as last row.

Fourth row—Same as before to the scallop, 4 ch, 1 sc in corner of second row, 5 sc over the 4 ch (or fill half way with scallop, 5 ch, 1 sc in middle of the edge of first small scallop).

Fifth row—4 sc over the 5 ch, *1 sc, picot, *4 times more, 4 sc over the remainder of the chain, 5 sc over the remainder of the second small scallop, 1 ch, 6 tr as before on all preceding rows, and so on the required length.

Fourth row—Ten tr over the 4 ch, 1 tr in first corner of third row, 5 ch, 3 tr in space of trebles of third row, 5 ch, 1 tr in 4th stitch.

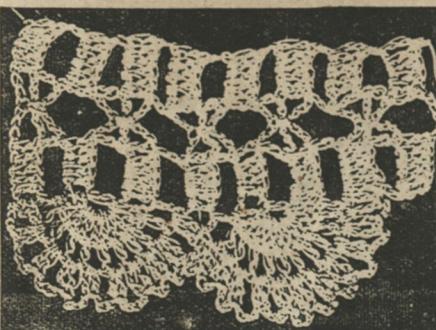

Fifth row—Nine ch, 2 tr in space two of trebles on 4th row, 6 ch, 1 tr in last tr, 2 ch, 1 tr in shell of scallop, and repeat this seven times, which will then be to end of scallop, 2 ch, 1 sc in first corner of the first row.

Panel for Thermometer.

On my return from the sea-shore, among my mementoes I found a quantity of very tiny star-fish. While recalling the delight of gathering them upon the sandy beach, and the painstaking care with which each was pinned to a board until dry, I suddenly thought of this plan for their use:

A piece of cardboard, nine inches in length and five in width, was covered on one side, first with cotton wadding, then with garnet plush. On this I arranged the star-fish, putting the larger ones at the bottom and smaller ones on the sides, in something the form of a horseshoe, with the opening at the top, ending with the smallest ones I had. I fastened on the space in the middle a small thermometer, with a bow of satin ribbon at top and bottom. I finished the lower edge of the panel with a row of tiny shells strung loosely on garnet silk; and it is hung by yellow ribbon from each upper corner. One of these corners has a bow of the ribbon, but the other has none, lest it should look set. The back is lined with yellow satin. When finished, the effect of the tiny white star-fish on the garnet plush is very fine.

These panels may be made to look very pretty of velvet or felt, with a spray of flowers done in embroidery or painting, with plus balls for the bottom. Or they may have only the ribbon for decoration. MILLIE LEWIS.

Repeat the same for next scallop same as before, and so on until finished.

A Pretty Sachet.

Cut strips of narrow ribbon as long as you want the sachet to be square when finished, allowing one-half or three-fourths of an inch for fringe. Make a square bag of any pretty color and material, —cotton sateen is good,—fill it with perfumed cotton, and sew together. Then weave your ribbons together, over and under, May-basket fashion, or in the manner of darning stockings, fastening at the edges with invisible stitches, and fringing the ends. Lay this mat on the sachet-bag, which should be just the width of the fringe smaller, and fasten the corners under tiny bows or pearl beads. If desired, both sides of the sachet can be covered with the woven ribbon. Blue and old gold make a pretty combination; but I used all colors, as I wished to use up a good many odd bits of ribbon which had accumulated in my scrap-bag. Tidies are nice made in the same way, and wider ribbons may be used for these.

CLOTILDE.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS.

A BEAUTIFUL carriage robe for the baby has a square of satin in the centre. On this are painted in outlines only two cherubs' heads. Around the satin square, and forming the rest of the robe, is cashmere of the same color and shade as the satin. This can be made more or less elaborate, according to your means and taste. If you please a vine with delicate pink and white flowers on a blue ground may be embroidered. The edge can be finished with a binding of ribbon, or it may be pinked, buttonholed, or trimmed with lace, or have a crocheted scalloped border.

A PRETTY mat intended for the top of a small table is made of drab felt. The edge is cut in sharp points; between these points are placed soft little tassels made of high-colored crewel. The border of the mat is made by working with gay embroidery silks any pattern which suits the fancy of the maker. The old-fashioned cross-stitch, or some modification of the feather-stitch, is pretty.

PRETTY fresh-and-burnt-match safe are made of two wooden slippers fastened upon a square of wood, the whole to be gilded and decorated to taste. A satin bow on each slipper makes a very pretty finish. The legend "It takes two to make a match," is painted across the top.

NEARLY every article of the batterie de cuisine has been impressed into service by the home decorator. Potato-mashers painted with floral designs have tiny hooks along the handle for the various small articles needed upon the dressing table.

For a chair or sofa back take a square or oblong piece of cream-colored linen momie cloth; on this work in outline stitch a bouquet of flowers or a picture of any kind; at each side of the cloth pull out threads for about two inches, leaving a little space outside, and enough also to make a narrow hem. Catch the threads together at intervals, and run in a bright ribbon of the exact width of the space left; fringe out the ends of the ribbon and of the momie cloth.

DURABLE covers for bureau and wash-stand tops are made of what is commonly called butchers' linen. Fringe out the edges to the desired depth; then an inch or two from the edge, where the fringe begins, draw out threads, and make a sort of hem-stitch by catching the threads together at intervals; this may be done with colored working cotton or with some of the threads you have drawn out to make the fringe.

TO MAKE a pretty whisk-broom holder, cover the pasteboard case smoothly with silesia, and edge the top and bottom with cord. Drape a bright scarf edged with sequins gracefully on the outer side, so that none of the case shall be visible, and suspend by cord or ribbon. The silesia should be of the color of the scarf.

A HANDSOME and very simple table scarf is made of light olive or cream-colored felt; on this work in outline a single figure; use silk of one color alone, if you choose—the effect is good; on the other end put nothing but a band of plush or fringe; put this on both ends, of course.

RAG MATS—Cut the rags, all sorts, in strips finer than for carpet. Sew them together, wind in balls and proceed. Take very coarse crochet hook. If mat is to be oblong, make chain accordingly. If round, two stitches will do, and go round and round in single crochet; that is, draw rag through with hook, put rag over hook and draw through the two stitches. Arrange colors to fancy. Bright, contrasting colors, light and dark, are preferable, and have a very pleasing effect.

Scrap Bag.

An inexpensive and really pretty and durable scrap bag is easily made by these directions: Cut three pieces of striped ticking, each about six inches wide and twelve or fifteen long—these dimensions may be varied, of course, according to the size you want the bag to be. Have the pieces square at the top, but cut in points at the lower ends. Work between the stripes of the ticking with briar-stitch, in various colored worsteds, line each piece with turkey red calico, sew together, being particular to have the points fit neatly at the bottom, and cover the seams on the outside with red braid. Make a run about half an inch from the top and draw up the bag with red cord. This is nice and handy to hang beside the work table.

Repeat from* twice, finish like second row.

These three rows are to be repeated until the tidy is as long as desired. Finish with scallop on two sides and one end, and tie in a fringe for bottom of tidy. Soon I will give directions for making macrame lambrequin.

OLD MAID.

Cologne Stand.

Directions for making a very pretty and inexpensive acquisition to a toilet table come to us from Miss M. J. W., Houlton, Maine, from whom we shall hope to hear frequently.

Take a bottle of any shape or size that pleases your fancy. Cover it with satin or silk, mix

LADIES' SLIPPERS, CROCHETED.

Materials—One skein Scotch yarn, any shade desired; bone hook, medium size; one pair lamb's wool socks.

Make a chain of thirteen stitches.

First row.—One double crochet in every stitch, always taking back part of stitch, turn.

Second row.—One double crochet in each of the first six stitches, in the next or centre stitch work three double crochet all into the first stitch, one double crochet in each of six loops. To do double crochet, insert hook in stitch, draw yarn through, then through both stitches on hook.

Turn, and repeat second row until you have thirty ridges or sixty rows, counting two rows to ridge.

Sixty-first row.—Now begin the side of slipper. Work eighteen double crochet back and forth without any increase.

Work fifteen rows, or until strip is long enough to reach to back of heel. Break off and work other side to match.

Sew together at the heel. Sew to sole, and finish with a row of holes round top of slipper, with shell edge. Place a handsome bow on instep. If wished these slippers may be lined with quilted silk. A piece of elastic run round top of slipper when too loose is an advantage.

Hair-Pin Holder.

Saw a cocoanut in two exactly in the middle, or if preferred, saw off one-third, leaving two-thirds for the top, remove the meat, then saw or file off enough of the ends to allow them to set flat together. Glue the two pieces together in this way, end to end, having the smaller portion, if you make a difference in the size, for the bottom of the holder, which will be something of the shape of a goblet. Let the glue dry thoroughly, then gild the outside of the shell all over. As it is rough it looks very pretty gilded. Fill the top part with curled hair, which may have sachet powder sprinkled in it if desired; then crochet a cover of fine blue worsted, fasten to the edge of the shell with glue and finish with a fluting of narrow ribbon. A bow of the same shade may be tied around the middle, where the shell is joined, and a fluting placed around the bottom edge, if desired.

ALMA SHAW.

[Swift River, Mass.]

Pillow-Shams.

One of the prettiest ways I know of to make pillow-shams is to take four linen handkerchiefs for each, hemstitched ones if possible. Sew them together with lace insertion between, edge the sham with lace to match, and line with some bright colored sateen; pink or blue is pretty. A sheet-sham may be made in the same way.

Pretty sheet and pillow-shams for everyday use are made with wide hems, and a pattern done in outline stitch in colored embroidery cotton in the centre. These are easily made and easily done up. A pair of pillow-shams which a friend of mine has just finished are made in this way. In the centre of one a half wreath of pond lily buds is worked, with the motto, "Sweet lilies close their eyes at night," and in the centre of the other a half wreath of opened lilies, with the motto, "And open them with morning's light." They are very pretty.

ANNIE B.

Lady's Knitted Sleeveless Jacket.

Materials.—Two skeins Starlight Scotch yarn. Two steel needles of the coarsest number that comes.

The jacket is knitted first in one long straight piece, garter stitch, and has neither neck nor fold. The shape comes not in the knitting, but afterwards.

Cast on forty-five stitches. Knit fifty-six purls (a purl is twice across) in plain garter stitch. Then make first button-hole. Knit four stitches plain, bind off three stitches, knit rest of needle out plain, returning, knit plain to where you cast on three stitches and cast on three more to take their place.

Knit twenty purls, then make another button-hole, and so continue till four button-holes are made.

Work Baskets.

Work-baskets crocheted in single crochet from fish twine, are made a size smaller than the wooden box from which they are to be shaped, as when wet with the starch they stretch considerably. Stiff boiled starch should be thoroughly rubbed in the work and then stretch it over the box, and tie securely to hold in place until dry. Then remove from the box and give it a coat of shellac dissolved in alcohol. Let this get entirely dry, and then give it two more coats, drying between each. After which varnish with copal varnish, and if well done it will be the color of bamboo. The lid of the work box should be made the same way. Line both box and lid with blue satin. Place inside a little needle case and pincushion of the material of the lining and attach the lid to the box with ribbon.

BABY'S AFGHAN.

A pretty and inexpensive, but very warm and comfortable afghan for baby can be made by taking flannel of any color that you choose, either light or dark blue, crimson, wine or ruby, cream or pink, will any of them be handsome. Make it double, both sides of the flannel, with a thickness of cotton batting between. Applique daisies, rosebuds, fuchsias, or outline leaves over it, and see if the effect is not good. Of course you can make the covering of more expensive material if you choose.
